Spending Authority Review
March 2014

2 Assessment and Recommendations

2.1. Approach

We conducted our assessment during March 2014, and undertook the following procedures:

- a. Obtained the information of the other institutions from their websites (e.g. # of students, # of campus locations, annual revenue and # of programs) and evaluated them against VCC for similarity. Refer to Appendix A for the Institutions Comparative Chart.
- b. Mapped the spending authority limits of VCC to WKH LQ VWLWXWLRQV WKDW DUH in the step a). Refer to Appendix Comparison with Similar Institutions
- c. Mapped the spending authority limits of VCC to WKH LQ VWLWXWLRQV WKDW DUH VLPLODU µ Refer to Appendix Comparison with Somewhat Similar Institutions
- d. Analyzed the benchmarking charts in Appendices B and C
- e. Developed a new spending authority matrix that is considered reasonable based on the benchmarking exercise

2.2. Observations and Recommendations

Based on the benchmarking result, Grant Thornton developed the following new spending authority matrix:

	h % 0 1 1 1 1	h % 0 1 1 1 1 1 1	h % 0 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	h % 0 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	h % 0 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	h % 0 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	E i u] o o } • P v] () Å CE] š } v š Z µ P

Hi Ysabel!

This sounds incredible. If you could consider adding hands on experience with how to cook for off sites that would be great (no electricity etc.). Also perhaps include the other end of the spectrum and do some re-therm functions. Hope this helps!

Hi Ysabel (and Colin). This sounds like it could have great potential. Oddly enough I spent the day at George Brown College yesterday and they are doing a very limited version of what you are looking at. The catering sector is growing rapidly and there has never been anything specific to events available in that field. I would think this has great potential!
